LEBANON HIGH SCHOOL

We have finished two months of school work. The honor roll for the second month in the high school was larger than the first month.

We are all glad to have with us at school Henry and Manning Horton, who have just returned from Georgia.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Christen Keasler started to the school house to meet Rume and Gamwell but met them before she got there.

Mrs. Duckworth sent a load of wood to the school house. It was appreciated by the school, for there was nothing there to start fires with.

We had a very interesting society program last Friday afternoon. Mr. Paul Smith was the only visitor.

Last Friday afternoon the following officers of the society were installed: Miss Mildred Smith, president; Roy Craig, vice president; Miss Lola Richardson, secretary; Alva Clark, senior censor; Carroll Hunnicutt, junior censor; Malcolm Duckworth, sergeant-at-arms; Albert Martin, assistant sergeant-at-arms, and Pearl Webb, critic.

Start Early

DOUBLE SPRINGS

We had school on Saturday in order that the teacher and students might have holiday on Friday.

Misses Lella, Claudine and Lucile Sullivan spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Boleman of Townville.

The pupils are looking forward to entertainment which is hoped to be effected in the near future.

A goodly number of our people attended the Fiddlers' Convention at Townville Thursday evening. The weather for the past week has been very disagreeable, yet this fact has not affected our attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cromer dined with Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Tribble on Thursday.

Miss Mattie Robbins, one of the Oak Dale teachers, spent the week-end at Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Sullivan spent Wednesday shopping in Anderson.

Mrs. Mary Cromer and family attended the fiddlers' convention at Townville Thursday.

Mr. George Jolly and family of Anderson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jolly Thanksgiving.

We have our window shades up and they add greatly to the comfort and appearance of the building.

The High School Department.

LIMESTONE COLLEGE

GAFFNEY, Dec. 7.—On Wednesday evening the student body was delightfully entertained by a recital by the music department.

Dr. J. S. Dill, pastor of the First Baptist church, delivered his third address Thursday morning before the student body. His subject being Athens.

There will be a song recital in the college auditorium on the evening of December 8 given by Mrs. Francesca Kaspar Lawson of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Lawson is a lady of established fame and of musical lineage.

Misses Veima Goode, Lella Moore, Vashti George and Lybie Padgett, former students of Limestone, spent the week-end here with friends.

Mr. Stepp Beeks of Ware Shoals visited his sister, Miss Maggie Beeks, last week.

The Cooper and Griffith Literary Societies will give a play, "The Bluebird," at the theatre Monday evening, December 14.

Among those who spent the holidays at their homes were: Misses Fannie Latham, Loy and Fray Harper, Mildred McCulloch, Jessica Compton, Ella Gross, and Lady Ballenger.

Miss Ida Lansell is spending the week-end in Rock Hill with Mrs. George Smith.

Misses Laurie and Mae Best of G. F. C. recently visited Miss Sadie Best. Misses Kate and Carol Ballenger spent last week with their sister, Miss Lady Mae.

Miss Sallie Stone of Chester, of the class '13, is visiting Mrs. Gunter.

The Cooper and Griffith Societies held their regular meeting Saturday night.

There is one element in education that should not be neglected. This is the education of the will. If the intellectual and physical is done alone there is no real development of the moral and spiritual nature.

When Frances I of France lost the battle of Pavia he wrote, "All is lost but honor." When honor is saved, nothing is really lost.

The interior of the building is greatly improved by the paint. The walls are a light cream, the overhead lights a lighter shade of cream and the sliding doors have been done in mission.

Several of the ladies of the community have donated beautiful pot plants to the school.

Our library has been enlarged recently. The books have not arrived, but we are expecting them soon.

Christmas songs and carols is the principal music used in chapel in the mornings at present.

We are glad to report that Mr. L. A. Cummings, who was injured on the night of the convention here, by being knocked down by a horse is at his home from the hospital.

Miss Crawford, the principal, spent the week-end at her home in Anderson and Miss Gaines, the primary teacher, with relatives in Bolton.

We appreciate very much the paper which is being sent us by the editor.

ERKINE COLLEGE

On account of the unfavorable weather conditions the basket ball game scheduled with Wofford for last Saturday afternoon was postponed.

The material for the December issue of the Erkinian has been put in the hands of the publishers and will be out within a few days.

On last Sabbath evening, Hon. Geo. L. Taylor delivered the sixth number of the Life Work Series address before the Erkinian Y. M. C. A. on the subject "Law as a Life Work."

Mr. L. H. Spencer of the class of 1914, now assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Augusta, Ga., spent the week-end on the campus.

On Monday evening a joint meeting of the Women's College Journal club and the Erkinian club was held at the woman's college.

The participants for the semi-annual celebration of the Colopagan Literary Society, which occurs the first Friday night in March, are as follows: President, Miss Mary Dingman; Secretary, Miss Lela Reynolds; Treasurer, Miss Lela Reynolds; Junior censor, Miss Lily Brooks; Sophomore censor, Miss Rachel Dingman; Freshman censor, Miss Ruth Williams.

CLEMSON COLLEGE

On last Saturday night the Calhoon Columbia and the Palmetto Literary Societies held an inter-society contest in declamation.

W. E. Blake represented the Columbia; L. O. Campbell and S. C. Stripling, the Calhoon; F. A. Clark and F. D. Stripling, the Palmetto. The judges, Dr. R. N. Brackett, Prof. T. G. Foats, and Prof. D. H. Henry, gave the highest ranking to D. H. Swinehart, second place to L. O. Campbell and third to W. H. Blake.

W. J. Hunter, D. E. Swnehart and M. A. Smith represented Clemson at the College Press Association meeting in Columbia this week.

W. K. Magill has been elected captain of the football team for next season. He is one of the best natured hard fighters on the team, and he is popular with the students as well as with the players.

Dr. C. W. Gentry, one of the best of the earlier footballers, was here Saturday working to get a game between Clemson and some other strong team as an annual affair in Greenville.

Dr. Z. T. Cody, editor of the Baptist Courier, preached a fine sermon in the college chapel last Sunday.

The entire community was saddened by the sudden death of little Grayson Newman on Thursday afternoon. He was the youngest child of Professor and Mrs. C. C. Newman, and was a little over three years old.

Strickland W. Gilliam will give a humorous lecture on the regular lecture course on the evening of December 12.

HIGH POINT SCHOOL

The interior of the building is greatly improved by the paint. The walls are a light cream, the overhead lights a lighter shade of cream and the sliding doors have been done in mission.

IVA HIGH SCHOOL

The members of the eleventh grade met and organized the class with the following officers: Essie Cook, president; Earle Smith, vice president; Eugene Watt, secretary and treasurer; T. A. Sturid, chairman. Class colors, red and gold. Motto, "Be what you seem to be." The flower is yet to be selected. The class meets at pleasure of the president.

The Timrod Literary Society met November 25. After the program was rendered the following officers were elected: Essie Cook, president; T. A. Sturid, vice president; Nelle Simpson, recording secretary; Columbus Burton, senior censor; Dewey Brock, junior censor; Earle Thompson, sergeant-at-arms; John A. Shield, assistant sergeant-at-arms. The officers-elect were installed Friday afternoon at the regular session of the society by Earle Smith, the retiring president.

The school has added another feature, another recess, liked by pupils and teachers.

The December number of the Iva High School Uplift will be mailed next Thursday or Friday.

Miss E. T. Jackson of the ninth grade spent Thanksgiving with parents in the county.

TOWNVILLE SCHOOL

TOWNVILLE, Dec. 4.—This school observed "health day" on November 17. The program was excellent. In addition to impressive essays and addresses by Mrs. P. H. Price, Mrs. W. T. Hunt, Dr. E. A. Wideman and others, there was an essay by Miss Ruby Reeves of the tenth grade. The subject of this essay was, "The Importance of Keeping the School House and School Grounds in a Sanitary Condition." The various ideas were admirably developed. Below is given an extract from the essay.

"In conclusion these points should be emphasized. First, the formation of habits of neatness, orderliness and punctuality in the performance of school tasks is even more important than the formation of such tasks at home; for the school is a home containing more than 200 in its faculty. Secondly, the importance of keeping the school buildings and the grounds in a sanitary condition can hardly be over estimated, when it is realized with what readiness contagious diseases are spread from one pupil to another. Lastly, the lessons in neatness, orderliness and punctuality formed in school will stand for much in the development of mental life and moral character throughout the lives of the pupils."

The new cabinet officers for the Manual Training Club are: Messrs. Paul Smith, Furman Thrasher, Buster Price, and Misses Ruby Reeves, Annie Mae Ledbetter, Jeannette Bolt and Lotie Belle Holman.

The new elections for ninth and tenth grade officers resulted in the choice of these students: For the ninth grade, Miss Winnie Grubbs, president; Nat Farmer, vice president; Miss Ruby Reeves, secretary and treasurer. The same respective officers for the ninth grade are: Furman Smith, Misses Lila King and Miss Shirley.

Recently in class meetings of the ninth and tenth grades it was decided that the two classes would give a beautiful, framed picture of an "Old Fiddler" to the school. The picture given was in honor of our "Fiddlers' convention."

OAK GROVE SCHOOL

We have a beautiful little school house. It is about two miles from Flat Rock. It is painted on the outside and inside and we also have a nice teacher's desk and water cooler. The school is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Guida Majors.

We are planning to have a Christmas tree at the school house on Wednesday afternoon, December 23. The public is cordially invited to come. We shall be glad to have a large crowd.

THE CITADEL

Special to The Intelligencer. THE CITADEL, Charleston, S. C., Dec. 7.—41 of the 43 members of the senior class were present at the banquet given in their honor last Friday evening by Cadet W. Allen Moore, Jr., at his residence on George street.

The two front rooms of his home were very appropriately decorated in the Citadel colors, light blue and white. At nine o'clock the class was invited into the dining room, where a most tempting and delicious menu was served during the evening.

President Guy W. Willis acted as toastmaster and during the intermission between the courses a number of toasts were responded to and also a number of selections were rendered by the senior quartet.

As midnight approached the recipients of the delightful feast sadly realized that soon a most pleasant and congenial celebration was to be but history. After assuring the host that the evening had been most charmingly spent all returned to barracks, submitting themselves once more to the strict rule of militarism.

With both quality and quantity reigning supreme, the following menu was served:

Oyster stew, salted almonds, olives, pickles, fried oysters, shamrock rolls, celery, turkey, cranberry sauce, ham, saratoga chips, cream potatoes, peas, port, ice cream, macaroons, cream cake, coffee, cheese crackers, bull dog punch, cigars.

The annual meeting of the board of visitors will convene at the Citadel Tuesday morning, December 8th. The battalion will be passed in review at 11:00 a. m., and inspection of barracks will follow immediately. The vacancy now existing on the board, caused by the death of Col. J. J. Lucas of Society Hill, will be filled by election at this meeting. Of interest to all cadets is the decision which will be made in regard to the extent of the Christmas holidays furlough. Other matters will be disposed of in the usual way.

On account of the bad weather, the attendance of the school this week has not been very good.

Miss Maggie Garlington, the county rural school inspector, intended visiting our school Friday, the rain prevented her coming.

When our embroidery club met Wednesday we began making exhibits for field day.

We had Thanksgiving day and the Friday after our holiday. We will have to come to school on one Saturday to make it up as we can not lose any time.

The little children in Miss May Hinnant's room will have a Christmas tree. Each child will give a present to their desk mate.

Miss Belle McIntosh spent Thanksgiving with Eunice Barnetta. The boys of the Pendleton high school are practicing jumping. So far Dewey Brock is the champion.

Miss Mahaffey spent Thanksgiving at her home in Townville.

The Civic Association will put electric lights in our school auditorium some time soon.

On Wednesday we took our first drawing lesson that proved a success.

HARDMOND SCHOOL

Notwithstanding the past bad, rainy weather, our attendance was splendid; there being only one pupil absent just one day during the entire week.

We are especially interested right now in the coming of Christmas and are very enthusiastic over speeches, carols, etc. with which to celebrate appropriately this best and most important of all seasons.

We are planning a literary society for our school and hope that it will prove very beneficial to all.

We wish to remind the ladies of the improvement association that our next meeting will be held Friday afternoon, Dec. 11, at three o'clock. Everyone is earnestly requested to come and bring some sewing as the meeting is mostly a social one and the time is to be spent chatting over needle work.

HONEA PATH SCHOOL

Quite a number of the young people of the town were entertained last Friday evening by Miss Hazel Shirley at her home on West Greer street.

The members of the eleventh grade met a few days ago for the purpose of organizing their class. They began the work of organizing by electing their officers for the year. Miss Mary Sullivan being elected president, Mary Miss Agnes Medlock as secretary and treasurer. They decided upon the carnation as their class flower and their class motto is "Eat and be Merry for Tomorrow you may be a Freshman." The class will be entertained once a month by the different members at their homes. It was decided that the first meeting would be at the home of the president.

The Wofford gymnasium team entertained a large audience last Wednesday evening at the Queen theatre.
